

Southern Illinois University Carbondale
at
Naval Air Station Pensacola

Who should enroll in the Health Care Management program?

- Working adults who have health care-related work experience and/or technical certification training from military schools, technical institutes, or industry training programs
- Anyone who has an Associate Degree or training and experience in the health-oriented fields

What are the program requirements ?

- The 48 hour major is offered in 4 semesters, 12 hours each, over 16 months
- No main campus attendance required
- Classes held on Saturday and Sunday every other weekend

Contact Ms. Connie Kovich for more information :
(850) 455-2449

Who should enroll in the Workforce Education and Development program?

- The typical student is a working adult with experience serving in a training and development position
- Working adults who have a desire to assume a training and development position in the private or public sector

What are the program requirements?

- The 36 hour major is offered in 3 semesters, 12 hours each, over one year
- No main campus attendance required
- Classes held on Saturday and Sunday every other weekend

Contact Mr. Charles Forbes for more information:
(850) 458-6263

Why enroll in an SIU program?

- Career-oriented degree program; meets needs of individuals
- Transfer credit from other accredited institutions, including community colleges, CLEP, DANTES, or proficiency testing accepted
- HCM—Provides course work and experience in areas of management and supervision in the health care field
- WED—Provides course work and experience in the training and development arena
- Generally, college graduates earn twice the annual income than a high school graduate
- Education is power—increases personal and professional mobility

<http://www.siuc.edu/prospect/offcampus.html>

Don't Let the Sun Set On Your Educational Opportunity

We have a place for you!

In Pensacola

Southern Illinois University
Carbondale

Southern Illinois University Carbondale
NAS Pensacola
250 Chambers Ave.
Building 634
Pensacola, FL 32508